

SISTEMA by Lievore Altherr Molina

The revolutionary customised modular sofa system.

Imagine a sofa that can be customised to meet the exact requirements of any interior design project, both aesthetic and practical, and then take a look at SISTEMA, a new modular sofa system made by the contemporary furniture brand VICCARBE and designed by the renowned Lievore Altherr Molina studio which has established its reputation on creating individual design solutions.

SISTEMA is a unique and revolutionary idea patented by VICCARBE that breaks the sofa down into a series of elements, seating (with or without legs), back rest (of different heights), arm rest, legs and other associated accessories such as side tables, trays and foot rest.

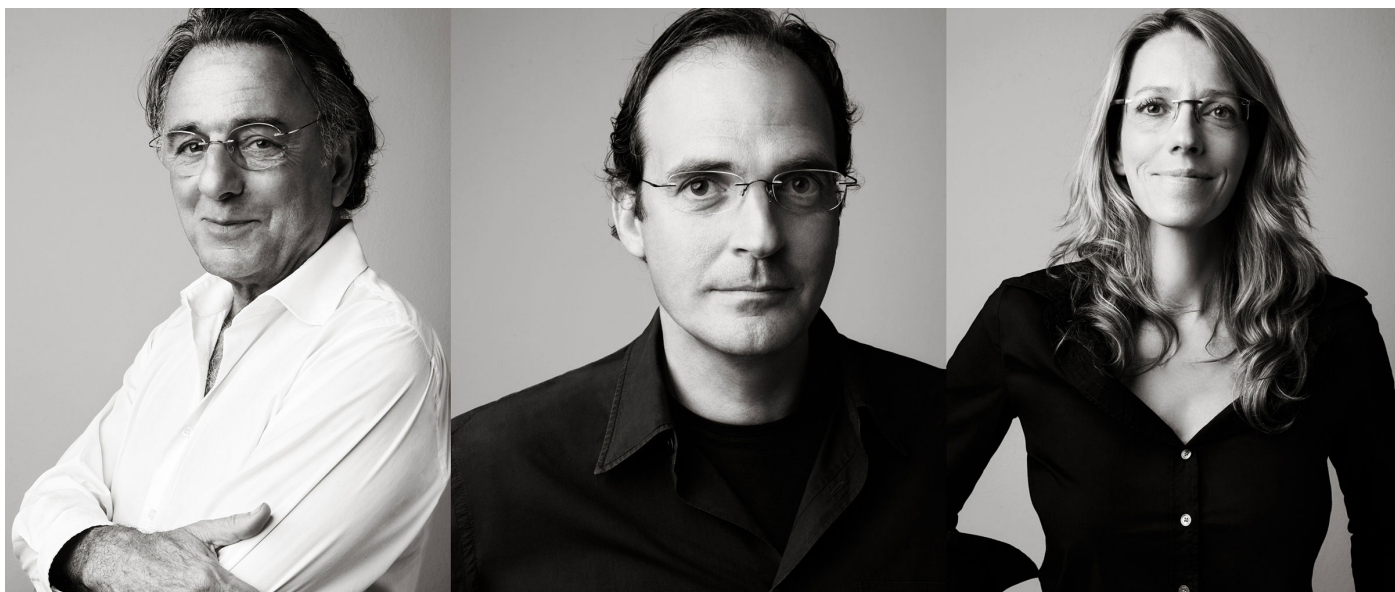

These deconstructed elements can be assembled by the customer in order to create the perfect sofa for either residential or contract use, adapting to the spatial dimensions and programme considerations.

In development for several years, the concept involves launching new elements annually, so that the sofa system can be adapted organically to changing circumstances and tastes. Each of the constituent parts is conceived as complimentary and interchangeable within the overall assemblage, offering flexibility and freedom to create unique and singular modular furniture.

VICCARBE also offer a number of preconfigured options of SISTEMA within their catalogue, providing inspiration to their clients; linear, L-shaped or U-shaped.

As well as offering the chance to assemble specific volumetric configurations there are also a number of different finishes that can be combined together, fabrics and wood etc. giving everyone the opportunity to create bespoke comfort, elegance and originality.
